ABOUT THE FOUNDER RAGHAV JAIN

Graduated with Bachelors of Business Administration, Marketing as Honors from North-Eastern Hill University and received an Associate Degree in International Business Management from VNSGU. He has obtained a College Advising Program from Teachers College at Columbia University and is also a Certified Global Career Counsellor from the University of California Los Angeles (UCLA). At heart, Raghav Jain, is an educator with a passion for diversity. He holds a deep conviction that racial, ethnic, socioeconomic, sexual, academic and professional differences should be embraced and believes these very strengths can inspire progress, success, and growth, not only for the individual but also for the world that is affected by those experiences.

“Weaknesses should be celebrated as individuality. Troubled experiences should be honoured as lessons.”

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A country of 50 states spanning 9.8 million square km, with Alaska in the northwest and Hawaii extending the nation's presence into the Pacific Ocean. Major cities in the country are New York, a global finance and culture center, and capital Washington, DC. Midwestern metropolis Chicago is known for influential architecture and on the west coast, Los Angeles' Hollywood is famed for filmmaking.

ABOUT U.S.A

The United States of America, which is commonly referred to as the United States or U.S., located in the continent of North America covers an area of 9.826 million sq km, which makes it the third largest country in the world in terms of area. The U.S. is a melting pot where people from different ethnic backgrounds and national origins exist. The most significant cultural aspect of this country is that it recognizes its people not by their ethnicity but by their citizenship and allegiance. The culture of this country embraces all the elements, be it conservative or liberal, and gives the rights of free expression, individualism and egalitarianism. The variety in American culture is unique in the world.

The places of interest in the U.S. are unlimited, from classy urban marvels and jazzy nightlife to quaint little countryside beauties; the country boasts something for everyone. Washington D.C., the capital city, houses three most important buildings, the Capitol, White House and Supreme Court. New York is the influential center for finance, fashion, culture and arts. Home to Time Square, Statue of Liberty, the Empire State Building and other iconic buildings, New York is a fast-paced city. San Francisco is known for its beautiful landscape, foggy locales, cable cars, and vibrant Victorian houses. San Jose, the technology hub of the U.S. is also known for its architectural landmarks. Las Vegas, a city in Nevada, is famed for its buzzing nightlife, hotels, casinos, iconic dancing fountains and endless entertainment options.

The USA has the world's largest international student population. Over 1,000,000 students choose to study in the USA to broaden their education and life experience and this number keeps increasing with each passing year. From the mid-1950s, when international student enrollment was barely reaching 35,000, international education within the USA has come a long way. The US education system reflects an unique and diverse society. They welcome different abilities, religious beliefs, ethnic groups, income levels, and concepts about teaching and learning.

WHY CHOOSE U.S.A.?

1. Academic Excellence

The USA has one of the world’s finest education systems, and their degrees are globally renowned for excellence. You can find outstanding programs in virtually all fields. If you are at the undergraduate level, you can find excellent programs in traditional as well as in professional fields. At the graduate level, you have the opportunity to work directly with some of the greatest minds in their field of study, and get the chance to conduct exclusive research and explore educational opportunities.

2. Variety of Educational Opportunities

The USA is home to thousands of colleges and universities, boasting ten times as many campuses as in the other country. As a result, the U.S education system has something for everyone. Some colleges and universities stress broad educational principles; while others emphasize practical, employment-related skills. A few renowned institutions concentrate on the humanities , social sciences or technical fields. This means that regardless of what you plan on studying, you'll have a plethora of programs in your particular field to choose from.

3. Cutting-Edge Technology

Universities in the U.S. pride themselves on spearheading cutting-edge technology, research and techniques, and in providing the best equipment and resources available to their students. Irrespective of your field of study, you'll have opportunities to become skilled in using the newest technology to conduct research, and also obtain and process information. You'll find ways to remain connected with researchers, teachers and experts in your field from around the globe.

4. Flexibility

Though most programs are highly structured in their specific coursework requirements, you will generally also be able to find a wide variety of additional course choices to meet those requirements. For example, liberal arts coursework for an undergraduate program will include courses in languages and mathematics, but you'll be given a variety of courses that fit those requirements and the flexibility to choose classes that match your interests.

5. Support Services for International Students

Studying in the US may be a rewarding experience, but navigating your day-to-day issues is often a challenge. Many international students find their college and university international student office to be a great resource when it involves adapting to a culturally and academically different environment. The mission of the international student office is to help students like you.

- Do's and Dont's for getting the Visa
- Personal Approach to boost your confidence

PART TIME EMPLOYMENT IN U.S.A

International students can take up campus jobs. They are allowed to work 20 hrs per week during a semester (on campus). On campus jobs may include teaching assistantship or research assistantship where a student is paid $8 to $10 per hour. Thus student earns $ 500-$ 600 per month or can get a waiver in tuition fees. With this, a student can also do an internship in the related field which may be paid. During vacation the student is allowed to work for 40 hrs per week. On completion of the course, the student is allowed to work for 1yr popularly known as OPT (Optional Practical Training). Students with certain degrees in a STEM(Science, Technology, Engineering an Mathematics) field are allowed to work for 36 months. On completion of the their OPT, the student can later apply on a H1B visa (work permit visa) for work.

SCHOLARSHIP

Fee waivers are awarded to international students on the criteria of merit & need. Candidates with strong academics, good performance on standardized exams & extra curricular achievements are eligible for scholarships, awards & financial assistance. To benefit from these opportunities, one has to send all the required documents by particular deadlines. In addition to this, the presentation of the application package is also important because one is judged by the image one projects.

There are various types of Scholarships:

- Fellowship-Scholarship : This is usually offered on the student’s ability, competence & performance.
- Assistantship : Generally involves a teaching or research assistantship. Students receive aid, in the form of cash stipend or a tuition fee waiver or reduced tuition fee.
- Sports Scholarship : Though seldom offered to international students, athletic or sports scholarships are available to a wide range of outstanding and talented athletes.
